DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

> The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter, which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claim1-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

3. A cement admixture has to contain cement. Otherwise it is an admixture for cement. Correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

> A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –
> (e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

5. Claims 1-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e or a) as being anticipated by Yamashita et al. 6,911,494 or Nippon Shokubai Co., Ltd. JP-2003-095722.

6. Yamashita et al. disclose a blend of a copolymer of an unsaturated polyalkylene glycol ether monomer and an unsaturated carboxylic acid monomer, an unsaturated polyalkylene glycol ether monomer and an unpolymerizable polyalkylene glycol in claim 1. The unsaturated carboxylic acid can be maleic acid maleic anhydride and salts thereof (column 9, lines 33-49, Calculation Examples 2 and 3). Additional monomers are claimed in claims 5-6 and from column 9, line 50, through column 12, line 5, blends of copolymers in the paragraph overlapping columns 14 and 15 and different copolymer(s) from column 23, line 12, through column 24, line 5. As far as the Nippon Shokubai reference is concerned, the examiner, who does not speak or read Japanese, accepts the conclusions of the International Search Report without reservations. Applicants' claims are not novel.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

7. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

> (a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

8. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

9. Claims 1-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Yamashita et al. 6,911,494, Nippon Shokubai Co., Ltd. JP-095722, in view of Nippon Shokubai Co., Ltd. JP-2003-073157 or W.R. Grace & Co.-Conn. JP-05-306152.

10. The primary references have been discussed already. As far as the secondary references are concerned, the examiner relying on the International Search Report states that it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art; at the time the invention was made, to add the ingredients of the secondary references to the compositions of the primary references, for the reasons enumerated in the International Search Report.

Double Patenting

11. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

12. Claims 1-12 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-12 of U.S. Patent No. 6,911,494. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because all ingredients claimed in the instant application can be found in the patent and using those ingredients would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art; at the time the invention as made.

13. Claims 1-12 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-18 of copending Application No. 10/791,729. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because all ingredients claimed in the instant application can be found in the patent and using those ingredients would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art; at the time the invention as made.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.
